GROSSMAN DEVELOPMENT GROUP ANNOUNCES NEW HIRE

SOUTHBOROUGH, MA -- Jamie Anderson has joined Grossman Development Group (GDG) as Senior Project Manager. His primary responsibilities will include pre-development and project management as well as tenant coordination duties for the Southborough, MA-based retail and mixed-use development firm.

"We are very pleased to have Jamie on board," said Grossman Development Group President Howard Grossman. "He brings valuable experience and knowledge to this position, which will further strengthen the GDG brand."

Anderson comes to GDG from RJ O'Connell & Associates in Stoneham, where he served as Project Manager for nine years. With an engineering background and nearly 20 years of commercial development design and management experience, his portfolio of involvement has included BJ's Wholesale in Brookfield, CT and Waltham, MA and the ongoing development of the White Elephant Village on Nantucket Island.

"I am thrilled to join the GDG team," Anderson said. "I was very involved in the design of the Lakeway Commons project at my former employer, so I greatly look forward to seeing the construction from the developer standpoint, along with the exciting other projects GDG is working on."
